Museum of Discovery and Science to participate in Blue Star Museums

- Free admission to active duty military personnel and their families this summer -

Fort Lauderdale, FL – May 16, 2018 - The Museum of Discovery and Science announced its participation in the ninth annual Blue Star Museums, a collaboration among the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, the Department of Defense, and more than 2,000 museums across America to offer free exhibits admission to the nation’s active duty military personnel including Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard, Marines, National Guard, and Reserve members with up to five family members from Memorial Day weekend, May 26, 2018 through Labor Day, September 3, 2018. A list of participating museums nationwide is available at arts.gov/bluestarmuseums.

Museum President and CEO, Joseph P. Cox, said “The Museum of Discovery and Science is thrilled to be a participant in Blue Star Museums. We thank the military for their continued service and dedication to our country and we are honored to support this program and welcome our active duty military personnel and their loved ones to explore the Museum this summer.”

“Visiting a museum is a great way to get to know a community—whether it’s in your hometown or a stop on a road trip,” said NEA Chairman Jane Chu. “We appreciate the enthusiasm of museums all across the country who open their doors for military and their families to spend time together and have new arts experiences.”

This year’s participating Blue Star Museums represent not just fine arts museums, but also science museums, history museums, zoos, nature centers, and children’s museums. Museums are welcome to sign up for Blue Star Museums throughout the summer by emailing bluestarmuseums@arts.gov.

“As many military families spend the summer months moving from one duty station to another, or reconnecting with a parent who has returned from deployment, Blue Star Museums helps service members and their families create memories,” said Blue Star Families Chief Executive Officer Kathy Roth-Douquet. “Blue Star Families has great appreciation for the generosity of the museums across the country who roll out the red carpet for the families who serve alongside their service members. We are thrilled with the continued growth of the program and the unparalleled opportunities it offers.”
